Senior Prophecy

*When shopping one day
In Taylor Department Store
I met an old classmate
Of more than a score
While talking of classmates of '51
We exchanged common knowledge
As to what each had done.*

Did you know that the Class of '51 has contributed ever so many of its members to the medical profession? Why, Gary Hemphill is a leading surgeon at the Columbia Hospital, with the able assistance of Marcella Wienecke, Ruth Pruitt, and Betty Smith as nurses. After the operation the patients are put under the care of the capable dietitian, Edith Harrell. However, probably the greatest contribution to medicine is the invention of a miracle drug by Doctor Ralph Feldkamp.

By the way, I have tickets to attend the T. V. show, "Breakfast with Lee Roy" with Lee Roy Ernst as master of ceremonies.
